What a BLAST?

By Andree Belisle

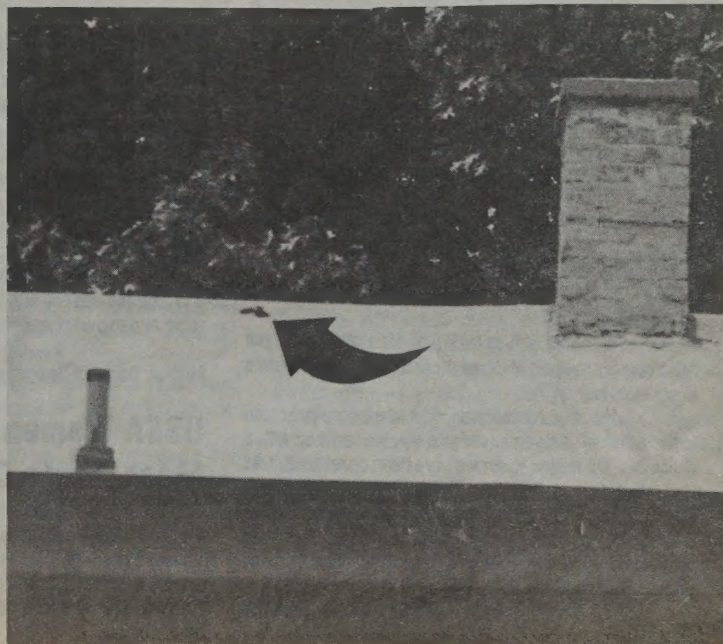

MILLBURY - At approximately 11:00 a.m. on August 7, Officer Richard Handfield was dispatched to the Dorothy Road area to investigate a complaint of damage resulting from blasting operations at the Hayward Glen construction site off Millbury Avenue.

David Kenny, who lives at 57 Dorothy Road, was working in his yard at the time of the blast, which he likened to a "meteorite shower in the woods." According to Kenny, a large boulder approximately 12 inches the size of a softball can be seen at the top of the roof. According to Handfield, Mr. Beaudry went up into the attic and found the rock that penetrated his roof.

Handfield also said that the Taher family, of 56 Dorothy Road, alleged that their chimney was cracked from the blasting.

While no citations were issued, Handfield said that Police Chief Ron Stokowski did revoke the blasting license of American Drilling and Atlantic Blasting, a Milford company, in the interest of public safety. Handfield said subcontractor."

Hulseberg also said that the Planning Board has already addressed the question of notifying abutters of impending blasting operations. "With as much blasting as we've had this summer," he said, "the Planning Board sent a letter to the Fire Engineers requesting that they develop a by-law for the next town meeting requiring notification of all abutters within 1,000 feet. We've recognized that there's a problem."

across caused an indentation in his yard about 5-6" deep. "My dog Rosie was out there," Kenny said. "The boulder missed her by about two feet. I almost ducked for cover, I couldn't believe it. It must have traveled a good 300-400 yards. They've blasted about seven times in the last two weeks. They were supposed to send someone around. Someone's supposed to go around before they blast, but nobody's been here."

At the Beaudry home next door at 55 Dorothy Road, a hole about he was unsure at this time whether or not a hearing would be scheduled on the incident.

When asked to describe the normal precautions taken when blasting, Brad Letourneau, a spokesperson at American Drilling and Atlantic Blasting Co., said he was not at liberty to offer any information at this time.

According to Town Planner Dave Hulseberg, the issue does not involve the developers of the Hayward Glen Project. "That's an issue for the

We The People...

Not the Forthright Thing to Do

To the Editor:

I read your letter to the Editor, Mr. Kollios, and must question your support of Governor Dukakis' recent increase in our state tax.

How much deliberation did it take before you came to this solution? Did you investigate why we came up with a deficit of $475 million when we have been consistently told that we balanced the budget every year? Why wasn't Medicare paid since 1985? If, by law, we are supposed to balance the budget every year - what happened? These are questions I would like answered. If the State was a private enterprise it would now be bankrupt!

In addition, why don't we take away the personal automobiles of state employees (plus gas, repairs, insurance, etc.)? This is just ONE area - then start with all the 03 and 07 accounts (consultants - some of whom have been "consulting" for years). Next I would thoroughly investigate all employees of the state - are they really needed? We read every day in the paper companies laying off people because times are tough - there must be hundreds of people employed by the state that really don't put in an honest day's work. Why must we always end up eliminating aid to the needy, poor, homeless, senior citizens, etc.?

The only solution to the mess this state is in is STOP SPENDING NEEDLESSLY! Not, as you have subscribed to, more taxes.

I'm new to the area, but I assure you, when I cast my vote it will not be for Mr. Paul Kollios, the State Representative who voted for the increase in our taxes!!

Committee Voices Dissatisfaction with Transfer Station Consultant

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The Transfer Station Building Committee met on August 1 to discuss several concerns with the Board of Selectmen. Representatives from SEA Engineering, consultants for the transfer station, were also scheduled to attend the meeting but Administrative Assistant Earl Chase said that engineer Paul Gabriel and Diane Reynolds, an associate, were unable to attend.

In the first order of business, Building Committee Chairman Richard Dwinell said that blacktop will be laid in 10 days and that the station should be in operation within two months.

Dwinell then reported that he had received a letter from the Board of Fire Engineers with a recommendation that an alternative system be used at the plant than what is presently in existence in other sections of town. The letter said that the fire alarm box system used in the outskirts of town is being dismantled because of the number of false alarms. Dwinell said he has looked into other systems and will get estimates.

Dwinell explained that the master fire alarm box would be tied into the system. "I intend to extend the lines from Colton Road at Riverlin to the transfer station. It can be done with the fire alarm budget with no problems. We have to decide tonight which way we want to go."

He then explained that one system he researched would require two telephone lines, which means an additional one would have to be installed. The cost of the equipment would be $1,300 with a $30 per month monitoring fee.

The other system researched by Dwinell shows a cost figure of $1,000 for equipment and $240 per year for the monitoring fee.

Building Committee member Peter Boria suggested that the town not pay a security company when it can make use of the system in the police department.

The committee unanimously agreed to tie the security alarm system into the police department system.

Selectman John Donnelly asked whether the master fire alarm box was located inside the building and was told that it was. He then asked if trash would be stored at night, and if not, why is a fire alarm box needed.

Dwinell replied that the DEQE requires it in its permit because they are afraid a fire could develop in the landfill adjacent to the station.

Boria noted that on Saturdays all the trash might not be delivered and may be held over.

The discussion then moved to the dry hydrant for the Transfer Station. Dwinell said the shortest route would be from the side of the building through Buck Brothers property, directly to Dorothy Pond. He indicated that a right of way or easement would be needed from Buck Brothers. "It should be done now," he said.

Another alternative suggested by Dwinell would be to go from the back of the station building to the railroad tracks and along the tracks to Dorothy Pond.

Earl Chase said he had contacted Buck Bros., who had the land appraised, but he said the New York corporate office did not wish to sell any property.

Committee member George D'Auteuil asked if the company gave him the appraisal figure. Chase said they had not. D'Auteuil asked, "Did you ask them for it?" Chase replied, "No."

Cristo suggested that Chase check with Buck

Brothers to see about the possibility of a right-of-way. Dwinell said that about one half acre at the end of the pie-shaped lot would be needed.

D'Auteuil suggested that another alternative might be to come in the back from Montgomery Drive, but Dwinell said there was no right of way there. He also noted that a decision on the fire hydrant has to be made within the next month.

Cristo asked Chase to check with R.H. White Co. for estimates for the dry hydrant and also to check with Buck Bros. on the right of way.

Dwinell then brought up the installation of dry plumbing in the office at the transfer station in preparation for sewerage hookup if and when sewerage is brought down Riverlin Street. He said that the cost of the installation was discussed at last Friday's on-site meeting with Mulholland Construction, the general contractor. According to Dwinell, Mulholland said it would cost $5,600. SEA said it should not cost more than $4,000. Dwinell said Mulholland will not go below $4,500. He also noted that it would cost at least $1,500 as part of the figure to backfill the floor by hand.

A question arose as to whether the town should do the backfilling or the contractor. D'Auteuil noted that the plumbing was estimated at $2,600, and the backfill to be done by hand by two men for two days at $50 per yard would cost about $1,200. "He (Mulholland) is saying we held things up by indecision, that's why we are paying now," D'Auteuil said.

Cristo then made a motion to accept the $4500 change order, which Selectman Roland Lachance seconded. The motion lost because of the lack of a majority.

"Let SEA go back," D'Auteuil said. "They are a little lax in performing their duties for Millbury. It's not the $500. I wonder where we are going in other items as well."

Lachance then asked Dwinell, "Are you saying that Mulholland might fill it all in and then we would have to take it out?"

Dwinell replied, "Mulholland could go in Monday, fill it in, and cement it."

Another Point of View

By Lawrence Moore

Stop Supporting Criminals!

The other night the group known to its detractors as "The Weepers and Wailers" drifted to a discussion of crime and punishment. It was not a book review of the Russian Novel, it was about Crime and Punishment. We came to many conclusions. We agreed and disagreed on many facets, but we all agreed something was wrong with our system. Here's how it went. What do you think?

~ The criminal justice system is off the track. It is overly concerned with justice for the criminal.

~ The bail process is a shambles. A white collar offender is frequently bailed higher than a repeat felon.

~ Our jails do not punish; they confine. Prisoner's rights, privileges, and perks often make life inside better than outside. The County Jail has regular clients who get themselves jailed every year to escape the rigors of New England winters.

~ Jails are expensive. The annual inmate cost at the county jail is probably up to nearly $18,000, and is as much as $30,000 at State facilities. Most inmates exist for substantially less on the outside.

~ Our plea bargaining system ("for efficiency"), our furlough program, and our parole eligibility rules (15 year sentence - out in 5) make the perils of conviction a worthwhile trade-off for the practitioner of a life of crime.

~ Our jails are economy-level residential training colleges, complete with TV, recreation, infirmary, food and lodging. Courses offered put Clark, Holy Cross, and Worcester State to shame.

~ Recidivism is high, with host alumni going on to more advanced activity.

There was much more, but for now, enough of the symptoms. How about the cure? Now the gang went all out!

For first, minor, and petty offenders, lots go back to the "workhouse," the fix-up, paint-it jobs that budgets don't permit to be done. And NOT voluntary. If an inmate doesn't work, he doesn't eat. He's paid the prevailing wage for his work, and he pays room and board to the jail for his keep. More serious offenders are assigned more onerous tasks, each according to his ability.

Along with all of this, offer night school, and correspondence courses, for those who are willing to take a step toward rehabilitation and avoid coming back for "graduate work."

Now what about those whose crimes are heinous: murderers, rapists, drug dealers, child abusers, repeaters, and incorrigibles.

"The Death Penalty," said some of us. But the group wasn't ready for that. "Deserved," they said, "but the soft-hearted in society would never go for it."

"Banish them," someone said. Ah, let's explore that. They do it in Australia, and it works. They do it in Siberia, and for them it works.

The U.S. owns many unpopulated islands, isolated, secure, and distant. Convicts would endure nothing more than did our infantry, island-hopping in the Pacific. We'd supply materials for housing to be erected, seeds, Noah's Ark for animal husbandry - in short, just about what the colonists had when New England was settled. The criminal would be offered a better choice than he offered his victim - he could do or die.

Think of the money we could divert to education, training, to people care, and to incentives for industry to "research and develop" for a better life for all people.

And think what a deterrent banishment would be, what a horrible alternative it is to the worst our criminal justice system inflicts. A life of labor and isolation - surely little enough to pay for the pain, the agony, and the devastation resulting from heinous criminality.

Aroun' The Town & Golden Agers Update

By Lillian C. Sheehan

The flowers on the Common look so bright, they needed that little shower to revive like we need a drink of cold water on these hot sultry days. Thoughts about the weather bring to mind, believe it or not, the Poinsettia on the windowsill. It still has three red blossoms amid the green plant that has doubled in size - speaks well for plants from Darlene's Floral Boutique.

READ ALL ABOUT the wonderful trip that the Millbury Arts Council is sponsoring on page 2. Most of us remember the lovable pictures that appeared on the Saturday Evening Post and endeared us to the artist Norman Rockwell. The first part of the trip will be to the Norman Rockwell Museum, and after lunch, which will be on your own, the second half of the trip is to Chesterwood, the studio and summer home of the former Daniel Chester French, famous sculptor who created the "Seated Lincoln" at the memorial in Washington, D.C. and the "Minute Man" statue in Concord, Mass. Thousands of visitors come to visit these museums, especially in the summer months, and anyone able to take advantage of this trip should consider it to be a rare privilege.

WIT AND WISDOM

~ The horse would have a good laugh if he could see all the motorists adjusting their shoulder harnesses.

~ It's nice to have an open mind - someone might put a good idea in it.

~ A man of words and not of deeds is like a garden full of weeds.

MILLBURY - The Little League 12 year old All-Stars had a spectacular series to win the District 5 All-Star Championship for Millbury. They began the eight game series by playing tough against Westboro for a 4-3 win. The second game was played against Auburn, with Auburn's John Connole pitching a no-hitter for a 10-0 loss for Millbury.

Millbury was then faced with a "must win" situation. In the third game against Shrewsbury, Matt Corey pitched a tough game, with Millbury winning 3-1.

The fourth game, against Dudley, was evenly matched, with both teams hitting well that day. This turned out to be another close win for Millbury, 10-8.

In the fifth game, Millbury really started to pull together as a team. They traveled to Webster and took them by surprise with some great hits and excellent fielding. They left Webster with yet another win, 7-1.

The sixth game was played on the home field against Southboro, who put up a good fight. Southboro's pitcher and Luke Gawronski worked very hard with some excellent fielding by the rest of the boys to keep the score close. The win was taken in the bottom of the 6th inning with a tie score, two outs, two on (3rd and 2nd). Keith Richards stole home on a pass ball, making the final score 6-5.

The seventh game was against undefeated Auburn.

They waited for the best team to come out of the loser's bracket to see who would be the next District 5 champions. By now, Millbury's 12-year-olds were really ready to face Auburn again. Millbury's Matt Corey and Auburn's Mike Paradise threw a pair of scoreless innings to start off the game. In the third inning, all broke loose for both teams. Millbury had 14 batters at the plate in the top of the inning, scoring eight runs. Gawronski's two-run single started the roll, and Keith Havalotti's bases-loaded double ended it. Auburn came back in its half of the third inning with seven runs, with a bases loaded triple by Paradise.

Millbury didn't let the comeback get them down. They batted around again in the fourth, scoring six more runs. Richards had three hits. Jason Finne, Jeremy Girouard, and Gary McMullen with a double had the key hits. Gawronski then capped off his three-hit day with a two-run double in the 6th, making the score 16-7. The triumph left both Auburn (3-1) and Millbury (6-1) with one loss each, and forced a second and deciding game.

In the final game with Auburn, Gawronski and Connole went scoreless for three innings. In the 4th inning, Adam Pojani walked and Richards doubled. Gawronski followed with a line single to center which scored the first two runs of the game. Richards' hit was the key hit that lifted everyone's confidence because Connole had struck out six of the last seven batters. Auburn did come back to tie the score in the top of the fourth, with singles by Connole and Eric Aubuchont and a double by Paradise.

Millbury regained the lead in the fourth when Finne led off with a double down the third-base line. With two outs, McMullen laced a double to left center, scoring Finne. In the top of the sixth, Millbury managed two insurance runs. Ryan Martin, pinch-hitting for Pojani, got a single; Richards also singled, and Gawronski doubled. Gawronski made the last two outs for the win.

After Gawronski's first adversary he came back strong. He won three games, the most important against John (no hit) Connole when he pitched his best game, scattering only six hits throughout the game. He came out on top as a 5-2 winner, ending the series with a total of 20 strikeouts and an ERA of 6.06.

Corey, showing great control, pitched four winning games; if he found himself behind he'd come right back. The team's 3-2 man has great over-the-top delivery and would be a great asset to any team. Corey ended his series with a total of 22 strikeouts and an ERA of 3.12.

Manager Rod Finne and Coach Bill Havalotti want to thank the boys that were on the bench for being ready and always patient. When they were put in, they did a great job. "It was a pleasure coaching these boys, they certainly made it all worthwhile. Special thanks to the whole team for gaining this triumph for Millbury. We would like to thank all parents, family and fans that came to our Championship games. We would never have done so well. You cheered us on to our winning victory. Winning the District 5 Championship means a lot to our 12-year-old All Stars. It hasn't been won by Millbury since 1979, 10 years ago."

Summer Concert to Feature Country Western Music

SUTTON - The West Sutton Baptist Church, Central Turnpike, has announced a summer concert to be held on Saturday, August 12 at 7:00 p.m. on the church lawn. The concert will held indoors in the event of rain.

The concert will feature a "Country Western Night." Many talented performers of New England will join together for a night of good music.

Bring your own chairs. Rest facilities are located at the church. Refreshments will be served at 6:00 p.m. and throughout the concert. Anyone wearing an article of country and western design will be awarded a prize at the end of the concert.

For large groups attending or general information, call Ruth Stafinski at 865-6821.

Local Cyclists to Ride in Pan-Mass Challenge

On August 12 and 13, four local residents will be among 1,000 cyclists participating the 10th annual Pan-Mass Challenge (PMC), a 194-mile, 2-day bicycle trip that expects to raise $1 million for Dana Farber's Jimmy Fund. The PMC starts in Sturbridge and ends in Provincetown at the tip of Cape Cod.

Among the local riders are Tony Ponte, Albert Kupcinskis, Brian Rand and Peter Trainor, all of Millbury.

The PMC is the world's biggest bicycling fund-raiser and the largest fund-raiser for the Jimmy Fund, having raised $2.5 million in its first nine years. Money collected by the PMC supports cancer research and treatment programs at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, the home of the Jimmy Fund.

Individuals interested in sponsoring a rider can send a donation to PMC/Jimmy Fund, P.O. Box 9, Newton Center, MA 02159.

New Collection of Books

MILLBURY - Residents of the Centerview, Pearl Street and Colonial Apartments will find a new collection of Millbury Public Library books in their activity rooms. These collections feature more than 30 popular titles including mysteries, romances, and general fiction. Thanks to donations made by the Central Massachusetts Regional Library System, some 60 large print books were added to these collections.

Please remember to return your selection to the activity room when you have finished reading them. Collections will be changed again on November 6.

In addition to the collections located at Millbury's housing complexes and two nursing homes, the library has also established a collection of paperback fiction at Millbury's new Youth Center. Funding for this collection was provided by a federal grant, administered by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners. Teens using the youth center are encouraged to borrow books from this collection of popular reading that includes romance, science fiction, and mystery. To continue to make this collection available to others, teens are asked to return the books to the center.

Board Holds Informational Meeting on North Main Street Proposal

By Alex Belisle

MILLBURY - The July 24 Planning Board Meeting began with Chairwoman Anna Lewandowski reading correspondence received by the board.

Silver Fox Subdivision

The Board of Health notified the Planning Board that they had approved the plans for the septic system for the Silver Fox Subdivision to be located off Riverlin Street.

Congregate Housing Complex

Fire Chief Thomas Nault notified the Building Inspector that the Congregate Housing complex on Colonial drive failed the fire inspection performed by the department. Nault also noted that Irene Sullivan, Executive Director of the Millbury Housing Authority, who was present during the test, said that an occupancy permit had already been issued by the building inspector.

Rte. 20 Lot

A copy of a letter from Kenneth Linder to Jude Cristo, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, concerned a section of the Selectmen's Meeting Digest in the June 22 edition of the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle. The section noted that the Selectmen agreed to write a letter to the Worcester City Manager and to the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering regarding "the unsightly appearance of a lot on Rte. 20 abutting the entrance to Wheelabrator."

Linder explained in the letter that he recently purchased the property and plans to clean up and develop the parcel. He also said that he has received a favorable 21E report from DEQE. According to Town Planner Dave Hulseberg, this indicates that the site is a "clean site."

2-4 Sutton Road

The board received a copy of an agreement from Kopelman and Paige regarding Spiro Notidis and his property at 2-4 Sutton Road. The letter stated a mobile home has been removed from the property and that the third floor tenants have "apparently vacated." Planning Board member Arthur Moore said that, as of Monday, July 23, the mobile home was still parked on the property.

The board agreed to contact Town Counsel to begin invoking a fine since Notidis has not complied with the signed agreement.

North Main Street Property

One of the major items on the agenda was an informational meeting on a proposal to convert an existing residential structure to a combination office and residential use at 215 North Main Street and for the construction of a two-story 15,000 square foot medical office building and clinic at 213 North Main Street, to be occupied by the Fallon Clinic.

Representing David Grenon, developer of the project, was Attorney Lawrence Brodeur who explained that Grenon is seeking four special permits: one for the 213 No. Main Street parcel, one for the 215 No. Main Street parcel, one for the employee parking lot and one for the resource area which will permit working the area for replication.

Explaining the proposal were Greg Valiton, project engineer for Cullinan Engineering, and Gary Swett of Marshall, Erdman and Associates, architects.

Valiton and Swett explained that the Fallon facility would house nine physicians whose practices are related to pediatrics, internal medicine and family practice. The plans provide 90 parking spaces, though only 85 are required. Plans also call for a driveway design which will be convenient to patients while not interrupting the traffic flow.

Valiton detailed the drainage plans which are designed not only to accommodate the drainage created by the facility but also to help alleviate a drainage problem that has existed in the area for years. He explained that though it was impossible to remediate a drainage problem that state and local departments have been unable to correct, the drainage on the three sites (the Fallon site, the Protector Group site, and the site across Main Street which will be used for employee parking) is expected to help reduce the flow of surface water to homes and businesses in the immediate area by diverting it directly into the Blackstone River where it naturally and eventually flows at present.

Chairperson Lewandowski then opened the meeting to public comment. Mike Moss, owner of Mike's Truck Repair at 214-216 North Main Street, told the board, "The project doesn't give me any problem except for this water (problem) that we talked about at the variance hearing." He did question whether the proposed drainage system was adequate enough to remove the drainage water so that his property and the property along Main Street will not be affected. He described the position of his properties, which includes a residence at 218 Main Street and his repair shop at 214-216 Main Street. Moss explained that a brook that runs between the residence and the shop carries runoff from the Martin Street/Park Hill area. He said he had worked with state engineers to reduce water problems and maintained that the solution which is in place "can't hold another cup of water."

Moss questioned whether the drainage system as presented was adequate enough to alleviate the problem. Part of his objection was with the plans, which he maintained were inaccurate. Valiton noted that their plans were drawn from town documents and represent an accurate depiction of the properties' positions.

"My concern about this is the water," Moss said. "Fallon doesn't bother me; the business doesn't bother me. I think it would be an improvement for the town,... but there's got to be some way to get this brook out - it's not mine; I inherited it."

Valiton explained, "In terms of the runoff, the overall pattern is the water comes down (from Martin Street) and collects in this brook. What we're doing (in the parking lot) is excavating down so when that water comes down, it's going to be trapped on this surface here (the parking lot) which is all graded to slope down to these drainage holes." On The Shelf

By Rosemary Waltons

Give your ears a break and your mind a whirl and pick up one of our books on cassettes. In 1987, the Millbury Public Library established a small collection of books on cassette with a state funded grant. Because of their popularity, we have been steadily adding to this collection. This year, with the help of yet another grant, we have been able to add 36 books on cassettes.

These new additions are designed to cater to the interests of students and adult learners, as well as to the entertainment interests of adult readers/listeners. Read-along tapes provide word-foreword accompanying text with each title. Each is read by a distinguished actor.

The advantages of read-along cassettes are many. With read-along tapes, below-grade readers in the middle to high school grades can keep up with assignments. Read-along tapes give special education students new-found confidence by feeling the success of reading a book. Adult learners in basic education or E.S.L. programs can use accompanying word-for-word transcripts to improve reading and comprehension skills.

Titles in our books on cassette collection, including read-along tapes, contain two audio cassettes. Each title is abridged to a playing time of between two to three hours. They all keep the main story line, and the author's own words remain intact. Most titles are read by well known actors such as Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Susannah York, and Robby Benson. Our new read-along cassettes include a complete word-for-word soft cover transcript book in easy-to-read type.

There's plenty for the lover of a good story whether you're a student or you're trapped into the commuting grind.

You'll find something if you're house-bound or just in the mood for a "good read." Below is a selection of new books on cassette that you can enjoy.

THE MANCHURIAN CANDIDATE by Richard Condon, read by Robert Vaughn. Brainwashed and then restored to his own side during the Korean War, Raymond Shaw has no recollection of his captivity. He returns to America a Medal of Honor winner and a walking time bomb - ready to kill whenever and whomever his "controller" decides.

A STUDY IN SCARLET by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, read by Tony Britton. Holmes investigates the death of an American, and the "scarlet thread of murder" leads all the way back to Brigham Young and the Mormon settlers of Utah.

TALES OF MYSTERY AND HORROR by Edgar Allen Poe, read by Christopher Lee. Written by the inventor of the modern detective story, these tales feature Auguste Dupin, forerunner of Sherlock Holmes.

TURN OF THE SCREW by Henry James, read by Susannah York. An uncanny ghost story of two children tormented by "visitations," and their governess. This perfectly poised teaser, written by a master stylist, has held generations of readers in suspense.

TREASURE ISLAND by Robert Louis Stevenson, read by Anthony Bates. Young Jim Hawkins finds a treasure map and faces off against Long John Silver, the dreaded peg-legged pirate.

LITTLE WOMEN by Louisa May Alcott, read by Carol Drinkwater. This ever-popular novel about the four March sisters, Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy, shows the remarkable strength of these women and is held as a model even today.

ADVENTURES OF TOM SAWYER by Mark Twain, read by Robby Benson. Both children and adults enjoy this classic story of boyhood. Tom and his friends begin by playing pranks, but their sense of adventure leads them to real danger. It is with their ingenuity and imagination that they survive.

PRISONER OF ZENDA by Anthony Hope, read by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. This swashbuckling novel is the tale of Rudolf Rassendyll who must impersonate the kidnapped King of Ruritania and rescue him from the clutches of the villainous duke.

STORIES OF DAMON RUNYON by Damon Runyon, read by Jerry Orbach. Here, Runyon recreates the atmosphere and cadences of New York City low life - the show girls, the gamblers, and the hustlers.

MAN OF PROPERTY by John Galsworthy, read by Sir Michael Hordern. This is the first, and considered the best, volume of Galsworthy's "Forsythe Saga." Galsworthy tells the story of the decline of an upper middle class English family and its futile enslavement to money.

Funding for read-along books on cassettes comes from a federal grant administered by the Board of Library Commissioners in support of the Library's Young Adult Independent Reading project.

Vacation Bible School

Millbury Federated and Millbury Baptist Churches cooperated this year in Vacation Bible School. With a theme of "Celebrating God's Love," over 30 boys and girls ranging in age from four to twelve learned about the love of God as evidenced thru the Lord Jesus Christ.

Every morning was opened with opening exercises consisting of pledges to the American flag, the Christian flag, and the Bible, with appropriate songs in between and the theme song and prayer. Several other songs were learned with guitar and piano accompaniment. The children up thru the second grade stayed in the Federated Church and those in third grade and up went to the Millbury Baptist Church for their lessons, recreation, refreshments, and crafts.

The last half hour brought the children together again for a time of singing and closing with emphasis on the theme for that day. On Friday, we invited the parents to join us so we could sing for them, give out certificates to the children and Appreciation Certificates to all those who worked on V.B.S. Then we concluded this week's event with a picnic on the front lawn of the Federated Church.

On Sunday, September 10, at 9:30 a.m., Millbury Baptist Church will be holding a Rally Day for the beginning of their Sunday School. There will be singing, introductions to the classes, registrations, some games, and the launching of helium-filled balloons.

Millbury Baptist welcomes all, but if you have other preferences, I suggest that you enroll your child into some type of religious education program. The public schools are not free to give any type of religious instruction, so that responsibility is now handed over to the churches and the families. Our children should at least know the Pledge of Allegiance and the Lord's Prayer.

Library Exhibit Focuses on Industrialization in the Blackstone Valley

MILLBURY - The Millbury Public Library has announced the opening of an exhibit entitled, "Industrialization in the Blackstone Valley." The exhibit consists of nine different panels of photos, graphics, and text detailing the industrial development and evolving social relations of the area between Worcester and Providence that became known as the "Cradle of Industrialization."

The exhibit focuses on the changing structures of mill life, including the development of child labor and creation of mill villages. Area residents will recognize the important local and regional contributions to American history that their forebears lived through.

The Library is located at 128 Elm Street and is open from 10-8, Monday through Thursday, 10-6 Friday, and 10-1 on Saturday. The exhibit will be on display through September 5. Sponsors of the exhibit include the Blackstone Valley National Heritage Corridor, the Massachusetts Foundation for Humanities and Public Policy, and the Rhode Island Council for the Humanities.

Arts Council Issues Invitation to Rockwell and French Museums

MILLBURY - The Millbury Arts Council is inviting citizens in Millbury to visit Stockbridge, where one will go through the Norman Rockwell Museum, viewing a collection of his most famous paintings such as the "Four Freedoms." Since his death in 1978 at the age of 84, interest in Rockwell Art has soared among museums and collectors.

This trip, for adults only, will leave from the Millbury Public Library on Saturday, September 30, at 7:30 a.m. and return at approximately 7:00 p.m. There are only 45 seats available. If interested, there will be member of the Millbury Arts Council available at the Millbury Public Library on Friday, August 25, from 4-6 p.m. and Saturday, August 26, from 11 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Registration must be made in person and will close as soon as 45 seats are reserved. There is no charge, however a $5.00 cash deposit is REQUIRED upon registration. Deposit will be returned on the day of the trip.

No lunch will be provided. Bring a bag lunch or visit a local restaurant. Approximately two hours will be provided for lunch and free time to browse, shop, etc. The bus will then proceed to the Daniel Chester French Museum, also in Stockbridge.

This program is funded and supported by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery as administered by the Millbury Arts Council.

Little League Remembers its Roots

MILLBURY - The Millbury Little League recently dedicated a trophy in memory of George P. Gagliardi, one of the original founders of the league in 1953.

Three years ago, Millbury began hosting an annual 11-year-old invitation tournament for area towns, with the winner's name being affixed to a permanent plaque displayed at Washington Street Park. This plaque is now known as The George P. Gagliardi Memorial Trophy.

Mr. Gagliardi, who passed away in April of this year, was the Millbury Little League's first Treasurer, and held that position for more than 25 years, overseeing the growth from a three-team joint venture with Grafton to today's large, well-run organization.

Valiton, that water will then be taken along the property line, deposited into a new manhole and across Main Street, discharging into the Blackstone River.

North Main Street resident Richard Wade told the board that he was "basically talking for most of the neighbors....I have many questions," he said. His first comment addressed the same reservations which Moss expressed with regard to the drainage of water and the impact that the project would have on his property. Wade took issue with the direction in which the river was shown to flow on the plans. Referring to pictures which he presented to the board, he said that the river flows South, Southeast and not South, Southwest as he maintained the plans showed.

He also took issue with the Building Inspector's classification of the building as a "hospital" rather than an office building. He stated that he consulted many dictionaries and found no definition that would apply. "This is really a professional office building supplying medical services," he said.

North Main Street resident John Callahan and Dean Moss (son of Mike Moss) maintained that the clinic would create traffic problems.

Lewandowski then informed the developer that the town had passed an article at the last Town Meeting which says that any new development along Rt. 20 and Rt. 146 must be submitted to the Massachusetts Regional Planning Commission for review, and asked that the developer do so.

Robert Fisher, Park Hill Avenue resident, asked the board if there was any law that would prevent Fallon from opening the employee parking lot onto Martin Street. Brodeur responded that Fallon was not anticipating such action.

Lewandowski asked if the Fallon facility would be generating any hazardous waste. Lee Beaudoin, a health administrator for Fallon Clinic, replied that the Massachusetts Department of Public Health dictates how the hazardous waste which is generated must be disposed of. He said all medical materials must be put in special containers, stored inside the building, and are collected on a daily basis or every two to three days.

In response to a question from Lewandowski about the ratio of parking space to patients, Brodeur and Beaudoin explained that there will be nine physicians on the property seeing a projected four patients an hour. There are three employees per physician. The total is 72 spaces needed; the site provides 90 spaces.

The board scheduled a hearing on the project for August 21 and asked the developer to bring in additional information dealing with drainage, landscaping and traffic.

In a follow-up phone conversation with David Grenon, he said that he is aware of the drainage problem which has existed in the area. "We want to cooperate with our neighbors," he said "and to that end we are committed to make sure that our project will not contribute to the drainage problem." Grenon said they are taking every step possible to design a system that will not only handle all the runoff from their properties but will also help reduce neighbors' problems. "But," he said, "there are limitations, and we can't solve all of the problems that have existed over many years. We understand our neighbors' concerns and sympathize with them; all we can do is make sure that we're not going to make matters worse, and hopefully we will improve the situation."

Grenon said he feels the facility will benefit the whole community by providing accessible health care to residents of the area in an attractive and well maintained building. "We want to be a positive addition to the area and the community, and will take our neighbors' remarks under serious consideration as the plan evolves," he said.

Jessica J. Drive Subdivision

Lewandowski began the continuance of a Public Hearing on the Jessica J. Drive subdivision by reading two letters. The first was from BSC Group of Worcester which stated that after meeting with the Miles group and the town planner and reviewing the revised plans, BSC concludes that "the applicant has prepared the definitive subdivision plans for Jessica J. Drive in a satisfactory manner and in accordance with the town of Millbury by-laws and the rules and regulations regarding the subdivision of land."

The second letter was from the Board of Health stating that they have decided to uphold their decision to require the construction of a municipal water supply to the subdivision. The following reasons why they disapproved of private wells were given: 1) adequate fire protection will be provided by public water, 2) Mr. Miles has admitted that a well installed by him has a high iron count, 3) protection of the area aquifer. The letter asked the board to include these stipulations in their order of conditions.

Attorney James Burgoyne, representing Miles, stated that given the distance, two tenths of a mile from the nearest municipal water source, the D'Auteuil remarked that SEA represents the town and said they should go back for a last appeal.

Dwinell repeated that Mulholland said he would not go one cent under $4,500. "That's what he meant. SEA can go down there and argue until hell freezes over. If SEA talks to them, it will cost us another $500," he said.

Committee member Judy Taft then asked, "Why pay SEA $500 to go back to him (Mulholland)?"

"We are compelled to have an 'Outhouse'?" Lachance asked. "Yes," Dwinell replied. He also noted that an electric toilet failed as an alternative and was taken out of bid. He said SEA should be held accountable.

Selectman Donald Gauthier then noted that those who voted against the original motion to approve the $4,500 expenditure could ask for reconsideration. Boria moved for reconsideration. The vote was with the majority with Donnelly and D'Auteuil opposed.

Donnelly then suggested that the vote be recounted since many seemed to be confused.

Dwinell reviewed the motion and explained that the $4,500 was to be used for installing the dry plumbing.

"Let them (SEA) pay the $500 difference. This should be made public. They failed; we pay," D'Auteuil said.

Lachance suggested that when the final bill for the project comes in that a deduction be taken.

A vote was then taken, with ten in favor of the motion to go with the $4,500 expenditure, Donnelly opposed, and Judy Taft abstaining.

Dwinell then reported that Diane Reynolds told him that SEA will be submitting a bill for an additional $16,000 for services.

"I don't see that," Cristo said.

Dwinell said that he told her "in no uncertain terms" that SEA would wait a long time before those funds were released. He also said he told Reynolds that SEA was the worst engineering firm he had ever dealt with, noting that he has served on several building committees over the years.

It was suggested that SEA be made to document the work for the 275 hours they claim to have put in as additional work beyond the contract. "They were supposed to be here tonight," Dwinell said. He also noted that the board of selectmen have authority to accept or reject all bills. Cristo replied, "I am sure they will end up coming here."

Lachance said he recalled that at several meetings DEQE representatives strongly recommended SEA. "I suggest we send a letter to DEQE saying they did a stinking job."

Committee member Jimmy Dwinell said he had talked to a highway supervisor in the Town of Southborough who indicated that their experiences with SEA several years back were good. He also said that the Town of Ware has been involved with SEA recently. According to Dwinell, a Ware town employee said they have run into problems.

D'Auteuil asked for consideration of his proposal to have town counsel look at the contract to see if there are any loopholes so the town will know where it stands. "We should know if we have to pay the $16,000; we should know for what reason," he said.

Dwinell suggested that the committee wait until they receive a bill. "Why wait?" D'Auteuil asked, "We should find out beforehand if there are any legal loopholes."

Cristo asked Earl Chase to call town counsel regarding the matter. He also suggested that when the bill for $16,000 is received, it should be forwarded to counsel with questions.

D'Auteuil then brought up the matter of installation of baffle plates which are not in place but are in the contract. "I heard that is going to be a change order for additional money. I don't know whose fault that is. I heard there was a problem."

Earl Chase said that, according to SEA, the baffle plates and installation are to be supplied by the contractor. Cristo suggested that Chase discuss that further with SEA.

"Before we accept the building," Gauthier said, "We all better take a good look at it."

Jimmy Dwinell noted that Mulholland was planning on paving in ten days. He suggested that before that occurs, the brush and few rocks that have been pushed over to Buck Brothers property be removed.

A second concern brought up by Dwinell and considered an "atrocious" job on the contractor's part was the placement of rip-rap behind the building. "That should be brought to the contractor's attention. It should be re-placed and re-placed properly." He noted that the rocks looked like they had been dumped and left where they had fallen.

Richard Dwinell indicated that a check list will be submitted at the end of the job which will be reviewed before any final payment is made. Gauthier said that the whole building should be checked with a fine-tooth comb.

The meeting adjourned at 8:30 p.m.

cost of installing water pipes was prohibitive.

Ben Miles added that Massachusetts American Water Company informed him that they do not have adequate pressure to bring water to the site even if water lines were installed.

Arthur Moore said he studied the citation which the board of health provided for their decision to require municipal water and said he was unable to see how it applied. He asked his colleagues on the planning board to meet with the board of health to discuss the issue. Residents of the area, Kevin Doyle and Richard Leighton, agreed to meet with the two boards when a time has been established.

Burgoyne then questioned why Miles was expected to bring in municipal water when the Silver Fox Subdivision off Riverlin Street was approved by the board of health with private wells.

Since the board was required to make a decision by August 16 and their next meeting was scheduled for August 21, they asked Miles to agree to extend the mandatory action date until August 29. Miles agreed and Burgoyne offered the extension in writing to the board.

Bengston Lane Subdivision

In another matter, which was not listed on the agenda, Miles asked the board if they would be willing to accept a compromise on the Bengston Lane subdivision. He said he would agree to construct 18 houses in the development rather than the 35 already approved by the ZBA (Miles had petitioned the ZBA for approval of 50 homes and was approved for 35. He is appealing that decision.) He told the board that he would drop his appeal if they agreed to his compromise.

As part of the compromise to build only 18 homes, Miles said he would need waivers on the underground utility lines and on granite curbing. If the board would agree to allow him to put in above ground utilities and Cape Cod berms, he would agree to construct only 18 homes, which the original plans called for.

After some discussion as to the legality of voting on the proposal, Lillian Moore made a motion to file for a request for modifications of conditions on the original plan for Bengston Lane.

Keeping it Simple

Text and Photos by James LeClaire

SUTTON - On Saturday, July 29, Gloria Gouin and John Renaud exchanged wedding vows in a civil ceremony at the home of their friends, Felix and Shirley Saldana of Dudley Road. The ceremony took place under a trellis built by the groom for the occasion.

The bride, who arrived in a wagon towed by a lawn tractor, wore an off-white blouse with a white jean coverall skirt lined at the bottom with daisies. The groom wore a bright white T-shirt under white carpenter pants and topped his wedding outfit off with a straw hat.

During their courtship, Gloria had given John the nickname "Porky" because of his eating habits. John in turn gave Gloria the nickname "Beanie." When it came time to plan the food at their wedding, the choice was obvious - PORK AND BEANS.

"We wanted to keep things simple," John explained. "The idea is for everyone to be comfortable and to have a good time."

The simplicity followed through in the decorations. Each table featured a jar of beans and the pink face of a pig. In front of the head table was a large bean pot with a slot for cards, instead of the traditional wishing well.

The couple will be living in South Grafton after the home they are remodeling together is completed.
